

Problem:

You're new to the project and have absolutely no idea where the beginning or the end is.

Solution:

Start with Software Component Analysis (SCA), Software Supply Chain (SSC), or Software Bill of Materials (SBOM). Nowadays, over 50% of the code in a project is written by third parties, meaning their security issues are part of your project. Track and manage these with the appropriate tools.