

Problem:

If you want to succeed in penetration testing and cybersecurity, learn at least:

Solution:

Bash, PowerShell, DOS - basic system commands, scripting, automation and exploration

C/C++/Java/Python/JavaScript - programming languages, you should know at least one of them, decide between functional and object-oriented programming languages classic software/product design patterns

- for better understanding of code and architecture