Problem:

You start system overview in pentest, you need to know which partitions are present, how is memory construction or how many CPU-cores on system.

Solution:

`df -h` - list partitions on system with human readable size
`free -h` - show RAM and swap
`nproc` - list number of cores
`htop` - if present, show current system status with running processes and so on